

GUIDE FOR NEW RESIDENTS

ONLY LYON INVEST

HELLO!

Have you just moved to Lyon or the Lyon area? Has your company offered you the opportunity to take up new challenges here? Has your partner persuaded you to come here to further a career? A new city, a new life... where you will have to find your feet and explore a new environment.

With this guide book, Aderly aims to help you integrate during your adaptation period. It provides key information for your first steps as a «gone» (Lyonnais word for Lyonnais!) We have done our best to include useful contacts, insider knowledge and helpful addresses.

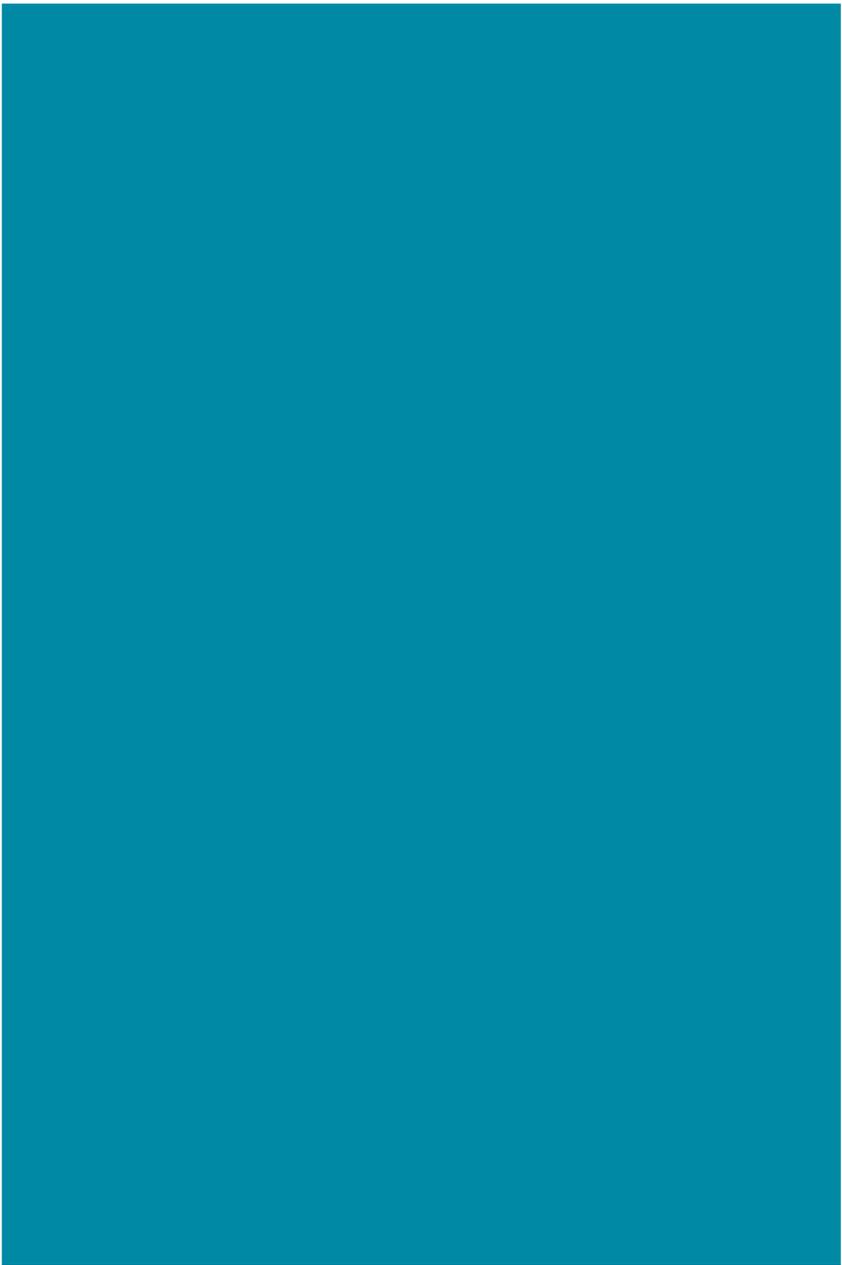

Emergency numbers, useful contacts, day-to-day information, administrative procedures, transport, international communities, culture, tourism, leisure, shopping... this guide book aims to be clear and helpful, and to become a vital part of your day-to-day life!

Welcome to Lyon!

We have taken every care to ensure that the information contained in this guide is correct at the time of going to press. However, it is not intended to be exhaustive.

A photograph of a historic building's interior courtyard. The scene is dominated by ornate, dark iron railings with intricate scrollwork patterns. A stone staircase with a simple wooden handrail leads upwards. The walls are a warm, terracotta color, and a small, round, glowing light fixture is mounted on the wall. A window with a dark frame and a small balcony with a decorative railing is visible on the right side. The overall atmosphere is one of historical elegance and architectural detail.

Condoms

You can buy condoms in chemists, from street vending machines, and in medium-sized and large supermarkets.

OUT-OF-HOURS GP

OUT-OF-HOURS DOCTOR'S

SURGERY

Not all emergencies need a hospital visit! Some medical problems such as gastro-enteritis, fevers in children, earaches, superficial injuries, etc. are best treated by the out-of-hours GP service, open Monday to Friday 8 pm to midnight, Saturday from midday to midnight, and Sundays and bank holidays from 8 am to midnight.

Four GP surgeries cover the Lyon area. Before attending, call 04 72 33 00 33. Your call will be answered by a doctor who will analyse the symptoms described and, depending on their seriousness, will direct you to the nearest out-of-hours service for an immediate appointment, the duty doctor in your area or to a more appropriate service.

General Practitioner

You must choose a GP («médecin traitant» or «médecin référent»). His/her role is to coordinate your care and treatment, i.e. the various consultations and tests required for any medical condition.

You should always see your designated GP first, who will, if necessary, refer you to a specialist. You may change your GP whenever you wish.

If you do not designate a GP, you still have access to treatment but your expenses will be less well refunded.

This arrangement does not apply to:

- emergency situations,
- situations that arise when you are far from your home,
- consultations with gynecologists, ophthalmologists, dentists and pediatricians.

The form you must complete to designate your choice of «médecin traitant/référent» can be downloaded from the health department website: www.ameli.fr («formulaires» section then «médecin traitant» section).

Consulates and embassies can help you find healthcare providers who speak your language.

Police

For any emergency situation, you can contact the police, day or night, by dialling 17 or 112 from a mobile phone.

In the event of loss or theft of documents, vehicles, etc., you should go to the nearest police station (commissariat) before 6:30 pm to make your statement and to receive advice on what you should do.

After 6:30 pm, you should go to the Hôtel de Police (Central police station):

In Saint-Étienne

Cité du Design (Design City)

Located where the old weapons factory, which made Saint-Étienne famous, once stood, the Cité du Design has become a highlight of the city's cultural heritage. It was inaugurated in 2009 and spans over 16,000 sq.m. The Cité du Design's aim is to help the public discover what design really is through various meetings and exhibitions. Every two years, it welcomes an event with a global reach: the “Biennale Internationale Design”

Open Tuesday to Friday: 10 am to 12:30 pm and 1:30 pm to 6 pm
The exhibitions are closed on Mondays as well as on January 1st, May 8th, Ascension Thursday, July 14th, August 15th, November 1st and 11th and December 25th.

Musée d'Art et d'Industrie (Museum of art and industry)

This museum has been awarded the « Musée de France » label and offers abundant collections, which are divided into 3 areas that bring together Saint-Étienne's history and know-how. One of the exhibits is dedicated to weapons and contains over 6,000 of them – making it the second biggest weapon collection in the country. Another exhibit retraces the history of the ribbon and textiles while the last one focuses on the history of the bicycle – the first bike in the world having been built in Saint-Étienne in 1886. A diverse museum, that sheds light on the city's history and helps visitors understand its appeal.

TOURISM

LYON WAS LISTED AS A UNESCO WORLD HERITAGE SITE IN 1998, HONOURING ITS 2,000 YEARS OF UNINTERRUPTED HISTORY AND ITS WELL-PRESERVED BEAUTY AND SPLENDOUR FROM THE ROMAN ERA. THE PEOPLE OF LYON ARE PROUD OF THEIR HERITAGE AND INVITE YOU TO APPRECIATE AND (RE) DISCOVER THE CITY IN NEW WAYS.

Historical quarters

How about a walk in the city to learn more about the history of Lyon? Explore the city's picturesque and authentic quarters.

Croix-Rousse

An original quarter located on a hill of the same name, marked by its past as a silk industry hot spot and occupied by the Canuts. Also known as «the working hill», due to workers building their workshops here.

We can distinguish Les Pentès (part of the 1st arrondissement) from the Plateau (4th arrondissement), culminating at 254 metres, a residential area with a village atmosphere.

Some unmissable parts:

- The slope of « La Grande Côte »: one of the paths linking the Terreaux quarter with the Croix-Rousse plateau and which follows the natural route used since prehistoric times.
- Les Trois Gaules amphitheatre: built around the year 19 AD, this is one of the oldest Gallo-Roman amphitheatres and witnessed the first Christian martyrs persecuted by the Romans. It is presumed to be where the martyr St Blandine was thrown to the lions.

- La Cour des Voraces: the courtyard of a Lyon apartment block located on Les Pentès and a symbol of the silk industry, built around 1840 and celebrated for its grand staircase. Also known as the «Maison de la République», as it was used as a refuge for the canuts during their revolts.

Vieux-Lyon: Renaissance district

Renaissance quarter

A medieval and Renaissance quarter with 2,000 years of history between the Fourvière hill and the Saône river, split into three quarters: Saint-Georges, Saint-Jean, Saint-Paul. Museums, churches, shops, restaurants and craft workshops are all part of the historic heart of the capital of Gaul.

Antique district and Fourvière

Antique Quarter and Fourvière

Known as the «praying hill» due to the religious groups that congregated here from 16th century and the Basilica of Notre-Dame de Fourvière built in 19th century, which has become a symbol of the city.

It was on this hill that were discovered vestiges of the Roman town, of a place where citizens came to deal with political and legal affairs.

There is also an area of archaeological treasures, consisting of:

- The ancient theatre of Fourvière, considered to be the oldest in Gaul: at the heart of the Roman city and built in two stages: the first under Augustus, probably around the year 15 BC, and the second in the early 2nd century, under Hadrian.

This was a place of performance, generally of musical theatre. Every summer this theatre is the site of the Nuits de Fourvière festival.

- The Gallo-Roman odeon of Lugdunum, close to the summit of the Fourvière hill, next to the ancient theatre; it was built in the early or mid-2nd century (there are still doubts over the dates of its origins). It was reserved for musical performances or public readings.

Traboules

These are passages crossing one or more buildings to link streets to each other, enabling residents to reach the river Saône easily to fetch water. The canuts used them to transport silk and other textiles across the city without getting wet.

More recently they were used as secret passages during the revolt of 1831, and by members of the Resistance in Lyon during World War II.

In Lyon, there are over 500 courtyards and «traboules» - 215 in Vieux-Lyon, 163 on the Pentes de la Croix-Rousse and 130 in the Presqu'île, but only around 50 are open to the public.

They can be visited freely. They are closed at night, and you cannot go up the stairs as they are part of residential apartment blocks. Do not miss the longest traboule (crossing 4 apartment buildings) in Vieux-Lyon: entrance at 27 rue du Boeuf and exit at 54 rue Saint-Jean.

The tourist information centre has a suggested route for visiting the traboules.
